

MORE ABOUT THAT SMALL BOSS INFAMY IN THE WEST END

Fake Charges Against Dollis The Union Molder, Beginning to React and Republican Bosses
Are Becoming Alarmed

Keep a Lookout for Their Next Move and Beware of Roorbacks at the Last Moment.

There was no criminal offense or intent on the part of Mr. Alex. Dollis in going to the registrars of the precinct in the West End to ascertain whether he had a right to register as a legal voter. Scores of cases occur in various precincts all over the state wherein there are unsettled questions that arise regarding the rights of voters, and the charge of any criminal offense is never thought of for a moment by either political party. This was the case of Mr. Dollis. He had never voted anywhere else, and had become of age in the state. It was a question in his mind and that of others whether he had a legal right to vote, and the put-up job by which he was arrested for making the effort to ascertain his legal rights in the matter was a piece of unprecedented infamy on the part of unscrupulous political bosses of very small calibre.

But the infamy did not end here. Not satisfied with having a warrant issued for his arrest for exercising his right to ascertain whether he was a legal voter or not, the gang of small bosses proceeded to the trick of having another warrant issued for the arrest of Mr. Dollis on the false charge of registering under the assumed name of George Messick. This last trick only showed the desperation of the gang.

Mr. George Messick is a well-known molder at the Wehrle foundry, who went personally to precinct D and registered as he had a right to do. In this outrage the bosses, small as they are in mental calibre, know very well that they have committed an offense against all decency.

The alleged attempted registration farce sprung by certain Republican small bosses in which they caused the arrest of Alex. Dollis, a union labor man, employed at the Wehrle plant, is now being sincerely regretted since the light is beginning to dawn and they now see what a terrible mistake they have made.

Republican candidates are beginning to complain that members of various labor organizations who had promised them support have withdrawn their pledges as a consequence of the Dollis fiasco and will support the opposition. As a consequence they are sore and there is said to be a great deal of dissatisfaction in the Republican camp.

Dollis was arrested on an affidavit sworn to by W. D. Gilbert, charging him with an attempt to register illegally in precinct C, of the Third Ward. A second affidavit was filed Thursday morning charging Dollis with registering under the alias of Messick in precinct D, of the same ward.

The question naturally arises, why did the loaders who engineered the deal wait until a week had elapsed until the affidavits were filed?

It is easily answered. The Republicans were afraid that if they acted at once it would give Dollis a chance to bring Messick into court and expose their whole nefarious scheme. Consequently they waited until a few days before election and then had the hearing postponed until a couple of hours before the election is to occur. The chances are that they will continue the hearing until after election and then drop it entirely. They are greatly discomfited at the expose of The Advocate, and the little farce which they enacted is the laughing stock of the town.

Alex. Dollis is a union molder, and works at the Wehrle foundry. George Messick is a union molder, and works at the Wehrle foundry. Both men are carried on the pay-rolls of the Wehrle plant. This statement is verified by Charles Allen, private secretary to Mr. W. W. Wehrle, and who has charge of the safe department at the plant.

When Alex. Dollis applied for registration at precinct C, Fletcher Scott, chairman of the Republican Executive committee, was present. Later, when George Messick registered in Precinct D, Mr. Scott was present there. Why did he not then and there interpose if he knew or thought that Dollis and Messick were one and the same person?

Alex. Dollis is known to many of the residents of the West End, and George Messick, who has a more extended acquaintance is known all over the West End. Both are popular young men and members of the molders' union. Their friends are up in arms over the outrage which has been perpetrated and something is going to happen next Tuesday when it comes time to cast the ballots.

LOOK OUT FOR THE INTIMIDATORS

A plot has been discovered whereby Republicans are endeavoring to intimidate voters known to be in sympathy with the Democratic candidates.

The scheme is to have paid men in the employ of the Republican committee call at houses where men board who will vote for the first time in this city and inform them that they have registered in the wrong precinct and are not entitled to a vote.

This method of deception was worked Friday and Saturday, and will also be done Monday. Look out for these men and politely inform them that you can attend to your own affairs.

Another scheme will be attempted at the polls where men will be employed by the Republicans to challenge, worry, and harrass these new voters.

Keep your eyes open for them and assert your rights.

KID M'COY REDUCED TO A MERE SHADOW

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mr. Norm and Selby, known also as "Kid McCoy," who has been a captain or better in the pugilistic, jewelry, real estate, rathskeller and automobile industries, has gone into the Sherlock Holmes business. With Frank Peabody, a former lieutenant of police, as his partner he has opened an office on the second floor of No. 500 Fifth avenue.

One class of business will be neither solicited nor accepted. All the wealth of the Indies would not be sufficient to lure either Mr. Selby or Mr. Peabody into professional participation in a divorce case.

FRIGHTFUL FAMINE IS IMMINENT MILLIONS WILL FACE STARVATION

Simla, India, Nov. 2.—More frightful famine than that of 1890, when more than one million people perished of starvation, is certain in India this season. Crop failures throughout the country have been practically complete. Indications for the future rest on close personal investigation by expert government agents. Having exerted itself to the utmost in vain to prevent the famine, the government is rushing relief preparations. Work will be begun on a scale more extensive than before in ten years. It is estimated that at least 45,000,000 people will be wholly dependent on the government for food.

STRIKE Of Railway Employees Will Tie up Every English Road

ASK UNION'S RECOGNITION

Which the Companies Firmly Refuse to Grant, and Men Vote to Quit Work

Socialism is Blamed for the Trouble, and there is Only Remote Hope of Arbitration.

London, Nov. 2.—Notwithstanding the powerful influences that have been at work to avert a strike on the British railroads, the executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants Friday passed a resolution to call a general strike. This society, which has been looked upon as one of the most conservative of the labor unions, has a long list of alleged grievances against the principal one of the road companies, and this chief spokesman is Lord Claude Hamilton, who has determined not to concede.

The general strike, however, under the rules of the society and the requirements of the law, cannot take place for some weeks. In the meantime there is a remote hope that David Lloyd-George, president of the Board of Trade, may bring about a settlement.

The railroads charge that the present agitation is due to the growth of Socialism.

The decision to call a general strike was reached after a five hours' deliberation by the executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants with the advisory committee appointed by the three conferences of the society last June.

Secrecy is maintained regarding the result of the ballot but it is understood today that 70,000 men belonging to the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants will stop work.

Lloyd George, president of the Board of Trade, has been engaged during the past week in unsuccessful efforts to induce the directors of the railway companies to agree to a compromise in order to avert a general strike.

The railroad companies, on their side, contend that the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants by no means represent the entire body of railway employees, and they claim that they have had a very satisfactory response to the issue by the directors asking for information in regard to the men who can be counted upon to remain loyal to the companies in the event of the declaration of a general strike.

Miss Mary Edsell, 19, and Earl Baker, 18, of Marion, moved to Kentucky and are married.

GRANVILLE MAN GETS VERDICT FOR OVER HALF A MILLION

John S. Jones Given Judgment Against Joseph Ramsey President of the Wabash For Sum Due Him For Purchase of Coal Lands.

New York, Nov. 2.—A verdict of $550,000 against Joseph Ramsey Jr., former president of the Wabash railroad, in a suit brought by John S.

Mr. Jones sued George J. Gould, William E. Guy and Mr. Ramsey as individuals to recover $460,000, which he alleged to be due him from the three defendants for securing for them 50,000 acres of coal lands in southern Ohio. A part of the money sued for, according to Mr. Jones, represented sums advanced by him in payment for the land and the rest included his commissions, expenses and interest.

Justice Goff held that neither Mr. Gould nor Mr. Guy were liable and the verdict consequently was rendered only against Mr. Ramsey. It represented the full amount of the suit plus costs and interest since 1902.

Mr. J. S. Jones, the party referred to in the above dispatch is one of Granville's best known and most popular citizens: a man who has done much for the town in advancing its education and commercial interests. The people of Granville congratulate him on winning his hard fought legal battle for what he considered his rights.

J. S. JONES.

Jones, a financier and coal land operator, was handed down Friday in the Supreme court.

NEWARK GIRL IN MAN'S ATTIRE UNDER ARREST

YEARS AGO

When She Lived With a Chinaman, Whom She Claimed to Have Married.

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 2.—After traveling in male attire for six weeks, a girl, giving her name as Rosa Moore of Newark, was arrested yesterday. She said she wore men's clothes for convenience in traveling. The girl says she is 17 years old, and that her father is James McKee of Newark.

The Rosa Moore mentioned in the dispatch from Kankakee is, probably Rhoda Moore, daughter of James McKee. She attracted considerable notoriety in this city several years ago by living with a Chinaman, who conducted a chop suey restaurant on Second street, claiming to have been married to him. The couple went to Columbus and it is said that the abuse of the "chink" caused Rhoda to leave him. She returned to this city and at a picnic held at Idlewild Park on Fourth of July made a balloon ascension and parachute leap. She left shortly after since which time nothing has transpired to bring her to light.

Friends of the actor are in communication with her, and say that she will be produced at the proper time to refute the charges against the actor.

The girl said: "Every charge of my going alleged against Mr. Hitchcock and myself is untrue." She added that her "disappearance" has been prompted solely by the undesirable notoriety and libelous statements that were being made against her. Hitchcock's attorney and his wife and friends were today absolutely at sea as to the actor's whereabouts. Hitchcock's attorney is as yet unable to find his client as any one who has seen him says he has evidence that will definitely clear the actor.

HAVE YOU KIDNEY TROUBLE?

How to Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.
Go to W. A. Erman & Son and get a 50c. box of BLOODINE BLOOD AND KIDNEY TABLETS and if they do not help you W. A. Erman & Son will give you your money back.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that BLOODINE BLOOD AND KIDNEY TABLETS, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder, and every part of the urinary passage. They correct inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. This mild and the extraordinary effect of BLOODINE BLOOD AND KIDNEY TABLETS is soon realized. They stand the highest for their wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. By mail 50c. COST OF CANAL

WILL BE $300,000,000 AND IT WILL BE COMPLETED ABOUT 1915.

Such Are the Estimates of Representative Tawney, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

New York, Nov. 2.—Representative James A. Tawney of Minnesota, the chairman of the committee of appropriations of the House of Representatives, left New York Friday on the steamer Colon for the isthmus, to make a personal inquiry into the present and prospective monetary needs of the Panama canal.

"We are making the trip," said Mr. Tawney, "mainly because the isthmus canal commission has asked for an appropriation of $32,000,000 with which to continue its work for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1908."

At the present rate of construction the work ought to be completed by January 1, 1914, but in order to be on the safe side, I will give a year's leeway, and fix the date of completion at the first of January, 1915. I also estimate that the total cost of construction will not be less than $250,000,000, thus making the canal cost us in actual cash $300,000,000."

MARVELOUS INVENTION CURES WEAK MEN

Patent Granted by the United States Government.

A new and scientific appliance invented by L. B. Hawley, M.D., will produce full manly power at first application. The effects are immediate and startling to a high degree. Develops, strengthens and cures lost vigor. Positively no failures. Physicians endorse and use it in their practice. If you are the least skeptical as to the value of this remarkable treatment, send for illustrated circular, take them to your family physician and get his opinion. This is the first time any one has requested you to take his circulars to your family physician. Why? Simply because he knows your physician will not recommend his treatment. Your doctor will immediately grasp the idea, and when he does, he will recommend it. Nothing like it has ever been sold before. It works the same on every individual. Send to-day for free descriptive circular of this wonderful instrument. The moment you see it you will realize its possibilities. No C. O. D. or free trial schemes to catch the unwary. This is a plain business proposition that will appeal to you as the greatest opportunity ever offered to those who are weak. Address L. B. Hawley, M.D., 1291, Wisner Building Rochester, N. Y.

BOSS METHODS AT CONVENTION OF REPUBLICANS

Every intelligent citizen well knows that there is a movement all over Ohio demanding specific legislation for the regulation of primary elections so that party nominations for office cannot be made by party bosses. Republicans everywhere are demanding this reform, so that the mass of the voters in the parties shall have some voice in naming the candidates that are to be placed on their ballots.

Now, where in all Ohio is this reform more needed than right here in the Republican party management of Newark?

The nomination of Randolph for mayor by the George Cox Boss of Newark was done by methods that need no comment. A sample of the methods was shown in the exposure of the fact that in three precincts of the East End only 28 voters participated in electing 28 delegates to the Republicans city convention where Gen. George Hamilton was supreme in control.

Everybody knows that if a Republican primary election had been held in Newark—such as is the party demands in all other portions of the state—Mayor McCleery would have received a large majority of the votes over Randolph, the boss nominee.

Harvey Bartlett of Waterford, died in Manitoba, Canada. A heavy wagon ran over him and caused his death.

John G. Kelly, 52, a well known citizen of Mt. Vernon died Friday.

Drunkenness a Curable Disease

Eminent Physicians and Scientific Men Agree That it Should be Treated as Such.

Drunkenness is a progressive disease; the moderate drinker is not satisfied with two or three drinks a day, the craving for more and more becomes irresistible as the disease advances; the result is Chronic Alcoholism.

The treatment used successfully by thousands right in their own homes is Orrine. It is a scientific cure for Drunkenness and has given such universal satisfaction that it is sold under a positive guarantee to effect a cure or your money will be refunded. It has lifted tens of thousands from the depths to worthy manhood and has the hearty endorsement of grateful men and women in every state in the Union.

Orrine No. 1 is the secret remedy; Orrine No. 2 is for those willing to take the treatment. Either form costs $1.00. The guarantee is the same in either case. Write to the Orrine Co., Washington, D. C., for free treatise on Drunkenness, mailed in plain sealed envelope. Orrine will be mailed sealed on receipt of price. The expose of the attempted registration by The Advocate was a thunderclap in the Republican camp. Republican leaders and ward heelers were called into a hurried consultation and another scheme is being hatched to spring upon the voters.

Lookout for the next week-back.

Voters, be on your guard. Don't be intimidated by paid hirelings of the Republicans who will endeavor to stop your right of franchise.

The agony will soon be over. Only three more days until election.

AN EMPTY CLAIM

An attempt is being made to influence voters against A. R. Pitzer by circulating a report that if he is elected he will be in favor of purchasing the old waterworks.

As the old waterworks can be purchased only after a two-thirds vote in favor of the same and as the new waterworks can be purchased only after a two-thirds

that vote has recently been taken and resulted in a large majority against the proposition, the chances of this claim is apparent.

'SQUIRE BOLTON

Who is One of Licking County's Best Known Citizens, a Candidate for Justice.Among the various city and township officials to be chosen this fall there is none which appeals more directly to the mass of the common people than that of Justice of the Peace. This forum is in a large sense the people's court. More closely allied to the working class than courts of greater jurisdiction. Absolute justice without extortion or undue advantage should be the rule of him to whom is committed by the majority of votes the administration of this

'SQUIRE W. F. HOLTEN.

office. It is fortunate that the Democratic party has a man well fitted in every way for the duties of this office.
W. F. Holton, the nominee for this office is a Licking county man widely known in both city and county. He has the ripened experience of middle life. He moved from Eden township to Mary Ann in 1879, and within one month was elected school director of District No. 3 without his knowledge.
Mr. Holton served on this school board for nine years during which time he gave his energy and money to further the schools of this locality.
The results are well known by those acquainted in this neighborhood.
When there was not money sufficient to employ a high priced teacher Mr.
Holton, altho' having no children of his own, gave of his own money to secure a teacher of more than ordinary ability.Mr. Holton has had experience in the office to which he aspires. In 1881 he was elected Justice of the Peace in Mary Ann township. He served a number of terms and gave excellent satisfaction.
In 1898 he was appointed to the office of County Commissioner. He gave such satisfaction that he was afterward elected twice to this office for the term of three years. Mr. Holton was vigilant for the tax payers' interests, careful in expenditures and thoroughly honest. He has been a workingman during his entire life and is representative of the class of people with whom he will have to deal when elected. W. F. Holton deserves the consideration of all voters, irrespective of party, and no mistake will be made in according him your vote and support.METHODS OF THE BOSS OF THE SERVICE BOARDEditor Advocate—The truth might just as well be told in plain words regarding the one-man power in the Board of Public Service, how he does business behind closed doors, and how purely unselfish he is in having emissaries at work over the city knifing the other members of the board wherever votes can be secured for himself in order to secure his own re-election. Perhaps he can fool the people and get another term by such methods, but he will find it a costly victory.The American-Tribune says that the cemetery is self-sustaining. How long will it continue to be self sustaining if the present ratio of expenditures and receipts are kept up? The balance in the cemetery fund having shrunk in one year of the present Board of Public Service's "economical" management from $3,381.01 to $3,921.49, how long will it be until a tax will have to be levied to support the cem-TAXPAYERS AROUSED AND BECOMING CONCERNEDWish to Know What Has Become of That $20,000 That Was to Be Saved in Cost of PumpsResult of That Trip That a Service Board Member Made to Dayton.Editor Advocate—The people are interested in knowing what became of that $20,000 that was to be saved in the cost of the pumps for the new waterworks plant. One, W. C. Christian, president of the Board of Service, spent several months of valuable time when he first entered office in denouncing the old board, and one of the sensational charges that he gave out to the newspapers was that there was a graft of over $20,000 in the price agreed upon to be paid for the pumps. The claim made by Christian was, that the two 3-million-gallon pumps could be purchased for $12,000 or $13,000, and as the original waterworks contract fixed the price of the pumps at $32,000, a great hubub was made that there was a plain steal of over $20,000.Sensational stuff was given out to the newspapers for weeks that the two 3-million-gallon pumps could be bought for $12,000 or $13,000.
But suddenly wiley Willie slipped over to Dayton one day and made a new bargain with the pump manufacturers. When he came back he announced with the sound of a trumpet that he had done a wonderful thing for the city by changing the contract and getting from the pump factory two 5-million-gallon pumps for the $33,000 stipulated in the contract.Now, take your pencil, dear reader, and figure. If two 3-million-gallon pumps can be bought for $12,000, two 5-million pumps can be bought for $20,000. This is plain arithmetic.It must be remembered that the pumps Christian secured were not high grade pumps provided for in the original contract.This being the case, is it not proper, dear voter, to ask what became of that surplus of $13,000?Perhaps Willie Christian can tell us when he wants another bond issue saddled on the city. CITIZEN.BLOW TO UNION LABOR ATTEMPTED BY DESPERATE REPUBLICAN MACHINE BOSSES

A blow struck at union labor!

A blow struck by Republican party bosses.

A blow struck by Fletcher Scott, chairman of the Republican Executive committee!Never were the union laborers so outrageously insulted as they were Thursday when one of their fellow-members, Alex. Dollis, was arrested on an infamously trumped up charge.The republican leaders did not take into contemplation the fact that there are thousands of union men in Newark who will resent the insult offered them at the polls next Tuesday.Labor unions of the city are not going to stand idly by and see their members outrageously treated by arresting them on trumped up charges and dragging them off to prison.The arrest of Alex. Dollis, arrested at the instance of Republican bosses on a trumped up charge, and the expose by The Advocate was one of the greatest sensations that has happened in the city for some time.
It shows to what extent the gang will stoop to try and capture votes.
They are and will stoop to every known device and chicanery of the tricky politician. They are becoming desperate but these tactics are being closely watched and any attempt made to intimidate voters who are properly registered will be resented.The labor unions of Newark will not stand for a single moment for some of the methods employed by the Republicans in an endeavor to keep their members from voting next Tuesday. While it is known that a number of them are Republicans on national issues yet their sympathies are with the Democrats in the present municipal campaign. This fact is known to the leaders and an organized mob will try and prevent the men from voting who have only been residents of the city for a year or a little over.HOW THE TAX-PAYERS OF NEWARK WILL SUFFERThe personal interest of a member of the Board of Public Service in the purchase of the site for the new waterworks pumping station is a small factor in the transaction so far as the taxpayers are concerned.The waste of over $25,000 of the people's money by the change from the old site to the new one, is by no means all the loss that the city will suffer by the transaction.Notwithstanding all the fault that was found with the old site, a little later on the people will realize the increased cost caused by the new site much better than they can size it up now. A desperate effort has been made by the one-man power in the board to cover up transactions and disguise the situation until after the election, but it is only a question of time, and a short time at that, when the taxpayers of the city will be compelled to foot a bill the size of which will astonish them.Mark this prediction. etery? And if it is levied, upon whom does it fall? The city owns the cem-etery and if a tax is levied it will fall upon the already burdened tax payers of the city, and not upon this township or surrounding townships. A former board of trustees thought it was not right that the city tax payers should bear this burden alone and so provided that an extra dollar should be charged for the interment of a body when the family lived outside the city or was not a tax payer inthe city. This the American-Tribune calls "holding up" the people living outside the city. We hardly think the business men and the tax payers of the city will so consider it.STILL TRYING TO DOPE THE FANSThe question that is going the rounds among the baseball fans at the present time, is whether or not Newark will be represented on thebaseball map in 1908, and if so, what league they will be in and whether or not there will be an O. & P. league next season.—American Tribune.As usual the Dear Old Tribune is wrong. The question that is going around among the fans is not as to whether we will have a team next season, for that is an assured fact, but the question is "will we have Sunday baseball?" The loyal fans of Newark are well-versed on the stand on this question taken by Mr.
Atherton, the Democratic candidate for mayor. They know nothing whatever of the position which would probably be taken by Mr. Randolph in case of his election to the mayoralty. Although asked repeatedly to express himself he has not done so. nor will he. Therefore, we would naturally assume that he is opposed to Sunday ball. The Tribune tries to cover this fact by stating that he has no jurisdiction. That is all pure rot as is well known by every baseball fan in Newark.At Findlay the municipal fight is being solely on the Sunday baseball issue and yet the ball park lays over half a mile outside the corporation limits. At Marion the players of the O. P. league were arrested and brought before the mayor and bound over to the grand jury, which body saw fit several days ago to ignore the cases and throw them out and yet the ball park is nearly a mile beyond the corporation limits along the track of the interurban railway. At Upper Sandusky, Mayor Ingard had the chief of police and three officers arrest all the players at a Sunday ball game and fined them. The ball park at which they were arrested was at the fair ground, over half a mile beyond the corporation line. The players at Youngstown were arrested and taken before a justice simply because the mayor would have nothing to do with it.Baseball fans are not dummies, even if the dear old Tribune tries to make them appear so. They know, just as does every attorney in the city, that the mayor has full jurisdiction in the matter and can exercise full police powers anywhere in Newark township. The fans are not to be so easily fooled as the Tribune will find out after next Tuesday.

ful Business Man Will be Elect-years of age, and has lived in this city all his life. He has always of the city, and has been in business esty and square dealing he has built up for himself a large and extensive trade in the cabinet furniture, and mantel line. He has made friends by the score, irrespective of politics, by his upright methods. Mr. Stare has no plans to pack and if elected to office, as he is sure to be, he will follow the same course in his public life as he has in his business and private life. Mr. Stare is an active member of the Knights of St. John and the Knights of Columbus, being one of the charter members of the Knights of St. John. The people of the city will do well, both to themselves and to the city, by placing Mr.

Stare in office.Intimidate the newcomers is now the scheme of the machine bosses under the leadership of the Newark George Cox.The labor unions of Newark are up in arms against the Republican party leaders for the part they took in the alleged registration farce.

Sore Throat Not a Trifling Ailment

Almost every one has had sore throat—will have it again. It is one of our most common ailments and because it, in itself, is not fatal, is too often looked upon as a small matter, requiring little or no attention.

On the contrary it is a very serious affection because every person with Sore Throat is in danger of Tonsillitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious maladies. In fact these diseases are almost invariably preceded by Sore Throat.

The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink all pass through the throat and if that is diseased, infection is quickly carried to every part of the system. To cure a Sore Throat then means to prevent Diphtheria or one of the other more serious throat diseases. Curing Sore Throat is TONSILINE'S special mission. It is made for that—advised for that—sold for that one purpose. TONSILINE is the one and only Sore Throat cure which is sold over a large part of the United States.

TONSILINE is so well and so skillfully prepared as a Sore Throat cure that the first dose always gives decided relief and a very few doses cure.

Remember—Sore Throat is Nature's danger signal. Keep TONSILINE in the house and be on the safe side of Sore Throat.

ADJOURN CONVENTION AFTER ELECTING NEWARK WOMAN PRESIDENT.

Mrs. R. Chase of Mt. Vernon Chosen Delegate to the National Convention at Toledo.

The annual convention of the Sixteenth District W. R. C. held in this city Friday came to a close Friday evening when Lemert Post, No. 71, G. A. R., and the local Relief Corps, gave a camp fire in the G. A. R. hall for the benefit of the visiting delegates and their friends. There was a large attendance and the address of welcome was delivered by Comrade R. C. MARK TWAIN TELLS THE STORY OF HIS LIFE.

Mark Twain refuses to let his captivating autobiography be published in book form until after his death, but journalistic enterprise has come to the rescue, and we are to have Mark's masterpiece after all. He has consented to let it appear as a serial, it has been secured at enormous cost by the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record Herald, which has a name for capturing big prizes of this sort, such as Conan Doyle's "Sir Nigel" and Kipling's "Sons of Martha."

Thus it falls out that the readers of The Sunday Record Herald are to have a delightful treat without extra cost. For months to come Mark Twain will go on telling in his drab way about the famous people he has met, how he came to create Colonel Sellers and Tom Sawyer, and all the funny things that have happened to him. The whole is to be profusely illustrated. The first installment—in the issue of October 27—is accompanied by a magnificent portrait of the humorist. Everybody who likes Mark Twain will want to read this great biography.

Kidney Disease, First Stage Promptly Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

JAS. M. POWELL

Catarrah of the Bladder.

Mr. James M. Powell, 431 Kensington street, Kansas City, Mo., writes:

"About four years ago I suffered with a severe catarrah of the bladder which caused continued irritation and pain. I was miserable, and could not stand up or walk for any length of time without extreme weariness and pain. I began taking Peruna and it greatly relieved me, and in eleven weeks I was completely cured, and felt like a new man."

Kidneys and Liver Affected.

Mrs. Carrie King, 730 North Cascade, Colorado Springs, Colo., writes:

"Peruna has been my favorite and only household remedy for nearly five years. I have suffered for years with biliousness, and kidney and liver trouble. If I caught a little cold, the pains were increased, and backache and headache were of frequent occurrence. 'However, Peruna cured me—twelve bottles made me a new and healthy woman. For three years I have enjoyed the best of health. I keep Peruna constantly in my home, if my husband or I catch cold or feel indisposed, a few doses of Peruna never fail to restore us."

Mr. M. T. Gaffney, Corpus Christi, Texas, writes:

"I can certify to the truthfulness of Peruna as a catarrah cure, and am recommending it to every one. I am practically well of the catarrah in my nose, throat and head."

WILLIAM F. LOTHAMER

Mr. William F. Lothamer, former president of the Boss Barbers' Union, a noted politician and at one time chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, writes from 1906 South 4th Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.:

"For years I suffered with severe disease of the kidneys. I would have pains all over my body, and at times have such dizziness in my head that I could not see nor work. 'Night I would often be awake with pain so I could get no rest. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and drugs, and had ceased to have faith in either. 'My druggist told me one day of the praise his customers gave to Peruna, and advised me to try it, offering to return my money if it did not help me. I purchased a few bottles, I kept getting better. The medicine did its work, and in four months I was a well man."

DOCTOR TO SUBMIT

TO OPERATION

Hopes to Have Cornea of Another Man Grafted Onto His Sightless Eyes.

Beilefontaine, Nov. 2.—Dr. Floyd Swinley, the Forest physician, who was the victim of an acetylene tank explosion some time ago, losing the sight of both eyes, left for New York where he will submit to one of the most peculiar operations ever performed, which will be watched with interest by surgeons in all parts of the country.

In the accident Dr. Swinley lost cornea on both eyes. A young man has been found who will have to lose an eye, but the cornea remains whole and sound. The operation will be the grafting of the cornea from the young man's eye to the eye of Dr. Swinley. If the doctor regains sight through the operation an effort will be made to find another case where a cornea can be removed and grafted so that Swinley can entirely regain the sight of both eyes.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Editor Harden, of the Zeitsung is glad, not sorry, that the state's attorney is going into the criminal court with the General Count Cuno Von Moltke's libel case against him. The matter was not settled anyway for Von Moltke had appealed. In the criminal court the editor will have a chance to "take the lid clean off."

This is just what he wants to do, as it will necessarily involve a delving into characters and conduct which he declares absolutely necessary to purify the German court and military and civil services.

WATCH BACKACHE

This Simple Home Mixture is Said to Prevent Serious Kidney Trouble Every Time.

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases is suspected the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first class physician, leave patent medicines alone.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home is stated by a well known authority. For some of these such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequency, (especially at night), painful, scalding and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and any one can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is no better general remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism either, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous acid and waste matter which if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your kidneys" is now the physician's advice to his patients.

PARTY HAD TO WALK

Hanover, Nov. 2.—The Ladies Good Will Society of Hanover planned for a big supper to be held at the pleasant country home of Mr. Montgomery, north of that place, on Halloween night. On that night a large number of people from this place drove out to Mr. Montgomery's in a big wagon and had a fine time. When they got ready to start home they found that some mischievous ones had taken one of the wheels from the wagon. After searching for the wheel for more than an hour with no result, the crowd walked back, arriving at their homes foot-sore and tired. The wheel was found in a nearby field the next day.

Commissioner Leupp of the latter, has registered a complaint over strictures passed by Captain Johnson, of the Tenth cavalry, in his report of the battle with the Indians and at at Thunder Battle.

Although Johnson's report only specifically criticizes the method of Indian Agent Downs in charge, it is regarded by Commissioner Leupp as an attack on the bureau itself. Johnson says the Indians are being starved. Leupp says they can get all the food they want by working. Agent Downs has been ordered to reply to Johnson's charges.

GERMANS CONQUER

CONSUMPTION

Berlin Scientists Say Consumption Will Soon be an Unknown Disease.

In a recent issue of the Chicago Daily News, that paper printed a long special cable from Berlin, in the course of which it stated German scientists are now convinced that in a few years consumption will be practically unknown. Science and modern medical methods are doing for that disease what has already been done for smallpox and cholera.

Many people in this country having read recently in the magazines accounts of consumptives getting well by living in trees, and by taking various open air treatments, have gotten the idea that the German specialists on tuberculosis prescribe fresh air alone. This is not the case, for medicinal treatment is essential to completely wipe the disease germ from the system. Fresh air is insisted upon, but its best effects are obtained only when carefully combined with proper medicine, of which perhaps the German preparation known as Lung-Germine is the best known and most widely used.

The very latest, up-to-date treatment of consumption consists of, first, medicine capable of dislodging and eliminating the disease germs from the lungs and system, and comprising powerful tonic properties. Second, to co-operate with this medicine, good nutritious food is advised, and third, plenty of out door exercises as well as the general practice of long, deep breathing is insisted upon. One of the principal requirements is that the consumptive shall secure a home in a high, dry place; the higher and dryer the better. It is no longer considered essential, however, that he shall move to Colorado or any other health resort; he should simply avoid low, damp ground. He should then choose for himself the most sunny room in the house and keep it well ventilated.

The consumptive should live on the best he can afford, and eat heartily. Fat meats, game, poultry, oysters, fish, broth, milk, and cream should be liberally supplied. As an additional tonic, an occasional glass of wine, preferably sherry, is also advised. Plenty of good food, eaten with a relish gives the sufferer the right kind of material with which to oppose the spread of the germs and resist the disease.

It must be admitted that the most effective medicine used in the treatment of the disease is probably the German preparation known as Lung-Germine, although in making this concession the credit must obviously be given to German scientists. This German preparation has the great rec-

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Newark Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Newark. Follow the advice of a Newark citizen and be cured yourself.

Miss Mary E. Manville, of 24 South Fourth street, Newark, O., says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills are the best thing I know of for rheumatic troubles. I got more relief out of one box than from all the other remedies I have ever used. I had suffered a great deal from rheumatism in my joints and back. It caught me first in one place and then in another, but was always present somewhere. Nothing seemed to give any relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Apparently they drove all the rheumatism out of my system for I have never had a return of the trouble and that was over five years ago. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DRIVERS HAVE TROUBLE

While B. F. Armstrong, a teamster living at 125 Canal street, was driving his dry Friday afternoon, Joe Bush, a driver of a cab for the Bolton Transfer company, ran into him at the corner of Fifth and Main streets. No particular damage was done, but later, when Armstrong was driving into an alley near his home, Bush again tried to drive into him, and when remonstrated with jumped upon the wheel of the wagon and tried to drag Armstrong to the ground. Armstrong struck Bush across the face with his whip, and the latter has made threats against him. Armstrong was before the mayor Saturday morning and telling him the above story, requested that an officer be sent to Bush's residence and warn him to desist from further annoying him.

ROUMANIANS WILL DEDICATE FLAG ON NOV. 10

Interesting Ceremonies Being Planned for that Day by Committee in Charge of Event.

The Roumanian Benevolent Society—"Decia Tratatului"—of this city, have issued invitations for the dedication of their American National Flag on November 10. The dedication will be in the Music Hall on West Main street. In their invitations the committee states that it is their object to convince the American people of the patriotism of the Roumanians toward their new Fatherland, America. The ceremony will be very elaborate and they have secured the services of a well known Roumanian priest of Cleveland who will deliver a lecture to them. Beautiful silk flags, the flags of the United States and Rou-mania, will be dedicated at this time.

In the morning a parade will be made. Bands have been secured, both American and Roumanian, and the day will be a very unusual one in Newark. After the parade the dedication ceremony will be held. The society that has the celebration in charge is a very worthy one, and through their efforts many a Roumanian has taken the oath of allegiance to America.

At 1 o'clock a banquet will be held in Assembly Hall and addresses will be made by prominent Roumanian citizens of this and other cities. Elaborate preparations are being made by the committee in charge and the foreign citizens of Newark will probably have a very enjoyable and successful day of their own.

Mr. John Santa of the Foreign Exchange bank, is one of the committee, and is confident that those who receive invitations and accept them will have a very pleasant time.

AMUSEMENTS

THE MAZUMA MAN.

Rolling and merry from start to finish, "The Mazuma Man," a very clever musical comedy, fully satisfied the audience that witnessed the show at the Auditorium last night. The chorus was shapely, good looking and well drilled; the scenery clean and elaborate; the costumes new and neat and were changed for every song, comedians were good and all went to make up a decidedly pleasing show. George Sidney as "Jazz, the Mazuma Man," Victor Casmore as "Sylvester Barbola," Johnny Puller as "Flip," the office boy, and Carrie Whiber as "Rosetta Kremona," were good. Applause was frequent and deserved. The songs were new and well staged, and if Sidney plays here again next season he will undoubtedly do big business.

THE WALLS OF JERICHO.

Laura Burt and Henry Stanford, who were with Sir Henry Irving on his last two American tours, and who were members of the great actor's company at the time of his death, are making their second American tour in "The Walls of Jericho" under the direction of Ernest Shipman. The play will appear at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, November 7. Miss Burt made a fine record with Sir Henry Irving's company, and afterwards made a successful tour of the English provinces with her own company. She is said to impart great vivacity and charm to the part of "Lady Althea." Mr. Stanford is a sterling actor, whose chief successes have been made as Oliver in Robespierre, Christian in The Bells, Gratiano in The Merchant of Venice, the Earl of Murray in Charles I, and Hildier in The Lyons Mail.

ERIASCO'S COMPANY.

Now that it is finally settled that David Belasco will send his company here next Wednesday night, November 6, to the Auditorium theater for one performance of "The Darling of the Gods," with all its magnificent scenery, gorgeous Japanese costumes, correct in every detail, wonderful light effects, and best of all, a company of Belasco players, trained by the master dramatist himself, it behooves us to advise theater-goers of Newark to get their best "bibs and tuckers" in readiness for the event, for this will be not only the theatrical event but the social function of the season. Opening date of seat sale and prices, together with other detailed information will be published in due time.

FOR MOTHER'S SAKE.

President Roosevelt is responsible for the word "venueous" having become so popular. No better adjective is furnished in the English language to describe the age in which we live. As a race we are a people of "nerves," we demand excitement, not alone in our business and professional life, but in our pleasures and pastimes as well. Being a close student of human nature, Carrie Ashley Clarke, the author of the beautiful American play "For Mother's Sake," built a play to fit the age and time in which we live.

This massive production is proving a big and popular success. The scenery, stage settings, properties and electrical effects are carried complete, and the management claim to have the most expensive cast ever carried for a melodramatic production.

The beautiful pastoral picture, "Lute Meantime" by moonlight, gradually fading away in heavy clouds, revealing the interior of a state prison is is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

triumph of stagecraft, calling for round after round of applause at every performance.

The third act shows a Colorado gold mining camp in full operation. This is one of the heaviest and most complete settings of its kind ever attempted. The big explosion at the finale of this act is thrilling in the extreme. This company appears at the Auditorium tonight.

COMIC ENTERTAINMENT.

McIntyre and Heath in Klaw and Erlanger's production of "The Ham Tree" have made a success the like of which has not been seen in many years. This is a real comic entertainment and the audience is convulsed with laughter from start to finish. If there be any complaint, it is too comic and too severe a test of one's endurance in continuous laughter. But yet every patron delights in it and hundreds have seen it several times. The story is most interesting and introduces McIntyre and Heath in the famous skits in minstrelsy which have given them the reputation of being the two most entertaining comedians in America. Their company is an excellent one and their chorus a real beauty show. There is more fun in "The Ham Tree" than in any other piece of its kind on the stage. McIntyre and Heath come to the Auditorium Monday evening, November 4.

ORPHUM THEATER.

Miss Eva Ray's final performances are this evening, and all those that have important questions that they desire having answered should not fail to attend this evening. The remainder of the bill is very pleasing. The bill for next week is announced as follows: Williams and Healy, black-faced comedians; The Proboscis Trio, singing and dancing skits with a roller skating finish; the Valadons, tight and slack wire artists; Ross, Theodora, illustrated song and latest moving pictures. Seats on sale for both performances tonight at the box office.

Hit by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington of Bosqueville, Texas, would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c, at F. D. Hall, the druggist's.

ARRESTS MADE AT GRANVILLE OF TWO YOUNG SUSPECTS

Who are Thought to Have Been Implicated in the Burning of the Grand Stand at Beaver Field--General News of the Village and Personals.

Granville, Nov. 2.—The burning of the grand stand at Beaver Athletic Field, and the committing of many other acts of vandalism by a crowd of hoodlums on Thursday night is being severely condemned by the citizens of the village as well as the faculty of Denison university. In former years it has been the custom to blame the students of Denison for all outrages committed in Granville on Halove'en night. The indications are, however, that the students had nothing to do with the acts of vandalism committed on Thursday night. Two town boys, whose names are withheld for the present, have been arrested on the charge of being implicated in the burning of the grand stand at Denison Athletic park, and are being held for investigation. It is understood that the Athletic Association will not rebuild the grand stand, and that if another one is erected the students will have to build it themselves.

At Sheperdson college on Friday evening in the place of the regular literary societies' meetings, social culture was held in Doane gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. The first half of the program was given to Misses Stanton, Benedict, Helen Hunt and Clara Davies, who have been abroad during the past summer. Their talks were started by Miss Stanton, who commenced at New York and explained in a fascinating manner her trip across the ocean. Miss Helen Hunt then gave a description of her trip, relating many adventures in Scotland, some of which were exceedingly interesting. Miss Benedict started with a description of Paris, telling how she had gone through the many big stores of that magnificent city, her rides on the coaches, street cars, and of the characteristics of Paris. Miss Davies took for her starting point Liverpool, and gave an excellent description of the city, and related many adventures and the wonderful sights she had seen. Altogether the first half of the evening's program was both entertaining and instructive and many interesting things which cannot be found in guide books were given. Miss Benedict left last May and studied organ in Paris, returning home the last of August. Miss Stanton and Miss Hunt left in June and returned in August. Miss Davies left with Miss Lorena Woodrow and Blanche Beattie spent one year abroad. The second half of the evening was given to the Senior girls who rendered in zne style the farce, "The Old Maids' Convention." All the Senior girls took part in the play and they were most amusing and entertaining and received hearty applause from the large number present.

Mr. Elihu Hayes and bride, formerly Miss Josephine Williams, who were married last week, returned from their wedding trip Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Thompson and son, Morris, who have been here for several days, have returned to their home in Dennison, Ohio.

Miss Ida Hill, a charming young woman of Hillsboro, O., is visiting friends in the village for a few days.

Mrs. W. A. Chamberlin of Dayton, is visiting her daughter, Miss Mary Louise, of Stone Hall.

Dr. and Mrs. Colby of Dayton, are visiting friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Mary Morton of Bucyrus, made a sort visit here Friday.

The boys who imagined they were doing something smart when they filled the campus grounds of Sheperdson college with buggies and carriages collected from all parts of the village, are not enthusiastic over the outcome. The boys who performed the stunt, were known, at least the ringleaders were, and it is understood that Dr. Hunt, president of the university, gave them the choice of returning the vehicles to the owners or leaving school. The vehicles were promptly returned.

Mr. C. J. Griffin, who has been living on the Starrett farm, west of the village for some time, and who recently disposed of his stock and farming utensils and household goods, left Saturday for West Virginia, where he will visit relatives for a time before leaving for California, where he will make his future home.

James Lincoln, a prominent young business man of Toledo, was in the village Friday for a short time, mingling with old friends.

At the last meeting of Altamaha Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this place, there was a good attendance of the members with quite a sprinkling of visitors, and an unusually interesting session was held.

T. M. Williams of Union Station, spent Friday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wright on College street.

Mr. H. M. Brown of Zanesville was in the village Friday on business. Thomas Reynolds of Marion, O., transacted business here Saturday.

G. A. Haines, John DeBor, John Smith, Joseph Rhoads, William Sandford and several others who were in attendance at the dedication of the addition to the Odd Fellows Home at Springfield, returned home Friday, having had a very delightful visit.

Miss Ella Harrison of Cumberland, Md., made a short visit here the latter part of the week.

Mr. W. F. Chamberlin of Dayton, is visiting in the village and is the guest of the Phi Gams.

Messrs. George Upson, Harold Lapson, Oscar Orndal, Walter Rankin, Duane Fulton and Max Norpell were initiated Friday night into the Lambda Deuteron Chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta.

Miss Grace Wilson, of Mansfield, after a short visit with friends in the village has returned home.

The members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity will entertain the girls of Sheperdson at their chapter house on Broadway this evening.

MISS JANUMIT LATLIT—By Empeigh Merwyn

"Running wildly and crying pitifully"

I was on this wise that that pathetic, elusive, bewildering little personality first came into our childhood lives.

We were comfortably established one hot afternoon on the piazza of the cottage to which we had fled but yesterday from Chicago August. My wife rocked lazily, her basket of embroidery on her lap, while I swayed slowly in the hammock, with a vague notion of reading, at some pleasantly indefinite moment of the future, from the magazine in my hand.

The prospect of a month's freedom from the office—where I had left matters in good shape—imparted an optimistic tinge to my mood. I began to expiate aloud upon our good luck in having discovered this pretty Michigan lake, where we knew no one and need not be bothered by callers dropping in.

"Where we can't even hear the children in the next flat," Bess put in.

"Yes," I acquiesced, "the wide expanse of territory between us and that cottage just beyond the point forms a sufficiently large light-shaft to deaden sounds of—"

It was at this moment that we heard a wall of childish agony that brought us both to our feet.

"No, no, no—oh!"

On the grass plot between us and the lake a tiny girl, perhaps three years old, was running wildly and crying pitifully. We caught a vision of a little face of terror, before she flung herself upon the ground, burying her face in her arm, shrieking and kicking.

Bess—not so fleet of foot as she was fifteen years ago—was nevertheless ahead of me, and bending over the little writhing figure, murmuring endearments.

The child sat upright, with flushed face, staring at us in surprise; in her grief and terror she had not seen us. "What is the matter, you little precious thing?" asked my wife tenderly.

She wore a dainty pink frock, her hair was a mass of kinky yellow, her eyes were bluish grey, and all else visible of her can best be described as peachy. Bess had gathered her up and was acting as though she actually was the fruit that she suggested.

"What made you cry, Baby?" I inquired.

The tot looked at me an instant, then surprise, to which the terror had given place, changed in its turn to an enchanting smile.

"I Miah Janumit Latlit," she said, as if that settled the whole matter.

I looked at Bess in bewilderment.

"She's telling you her name, stupid!"—the little darling! To the child, "What did you say your name is, Pet?"

"I Miah Janumit Latlit," she repeated.

"Janumit Latlit—what a name! And for such a little blossom! But why did you cry so, darling—Janumit?"

At Bess's question the baby's smile vanished, the look of fear and anguish returned, and clasping Bess's neck the child cried out, "Don't let her git me—don't let her git me! No, no, no!"

"Who wants to get you, Baby?" I asked.

She looked at me, her little countenance distorted with fear. "Janumit's 'tep-muvver,'" she said. "Don't let her git me! No, no, no!"

My wife's eyes grew wide. She rose from the grass, clasping the little pinky creature close, and looked around defensively. No pursuer was in sight, and we returned to the piazza. Little Janumit submitting willingly to be borne away and cooed over by my wife.

Then Bess looked at me, her eyes still wide, and demanded "Robert Evans, do you believe any woman could whip this little angelic thing?"

Resenting her accusatory attitude that made me—a perfectly innocent party, not even a spectator—particeps criminis, I began a witty reply to the effect that, considering the sex of a stepmother, it was difficult to foresee the exact channel in which her activity might discharge itself. But the child began to cry again pitifully, the word "whip" evidently having suggested the cruel treatment to which she had been subjected.

"Don't let her git me—no, no, no!" Janumit wailed, way off. She struggled out of Bess's protective arms, and flung herself face downward upon the floor, screaming upon her little arm, as when we first saw her, on the grass. Of all pitiful variations of baby woe I had never heard the like before; it seemed as though the little creature, in her short life, might have run the entire gamut of infantile suffering.

Bess's face was white and her lips formed a horizontal line—that I know well—as she gave me one look. Then she swooped down upon the agitated pink mass and gathered the little sufferer with ineffable tenderness.

"You little flower, you shall not be 'tapped' here!" My little precious one, don't cry any more now, darling—there, there, there!"

The baby looked up into her face with big eyes of wonder. It was plain that such treatment puzzled her—evidently enough, caresses and terms of passionate endearment were new to her experience.

"I Miah Janumit Latlit," she said, with a smile that might have fractured adamant.

"Yes, darling; yes, sweet," said Bess, soothingly. "Where do you live, Janumit, dear?"

"Way, way off, over there," she pointed to the opposite shore of the lake.

"How do you suppose she could get here?" I murmured incredulously.

The child heard me. "Janumit wanned away, way off in 'e boat. 'Tepmuvver 'lan't git me now!" The little face began to pucker up into its look of agony.

Bess darted a glance of reproach at me. "Don't ask such questions, Robert! Do you want to make her cry herself sick?"

My offenses are often of an occult nature, although my wife can detect them every time. But I made no protest—the matter in hand was too tragic—as I watched Bess exerting every effort to soothe the little, moaning creature.

At last we were half-distracted. All the soothing and caressing seemed but to make matters worse. "For heaven's sake, Robert, do something!" commanded Bess, at her wit's end.

I hastily made a collection of articles that seemed to me sufficiently gaudy and curious—or breakable and valuable—to attract a young child's fancy. We finally got her attention, and after a time she forgot her troubles in the examination of a red leather needle-book.

"The sorrows of childhood," I remarked, somewhat tritely, "are quickly healed."

Bess was bent upon keeping the sorrows of this specimen of childhood permanently healed. "We must not let her cry again!" she said sternly, then, in a rapturous tone—"Now, precious, you are going to have the nicest time and be so happy!" It is perhaps needless to say that the first remark was addressed to me, the second to the baby.

She now constructed a throne of pillows in the hammock, and when the child was ensconced thereon, all the valuables in our possession were piled up on her lap, the overflow being placed upon a chair within easy reach. The little peachy creature fell to playing contentedly with the skeins of brilliant embroidery—silks, pouring out over them a flood of the most delectable baby-prattle that I ever heard. We looked at each other.

"What are you going to do, Robert?" "Do I don't see anything to do now—the child has stopped crying!"

"As if that were the end!" she cried scornfully. "Do you think that I shall let that little, blessed baby go back to an inhuman?" she paused, glancing apprehensively toward the hammock.

Janumit was talking to herself and subjecting the silks to such an ordeal that I, recalling an occasion when I once inadvertently produced a slight confusion in the baby-basket, began to fear for her. But Bess beamed upon her. "She shall scruzzle the silks all up, if she wants to, the darling!" she cooed.

"Would you like to stay here, sweetheart, all the time, and have all the pretty things to play with?" Would you, Janumit?

The child looked into Bess's eyes with the steady stare of childhood. When the question was repeated, she said, with that entrancing smile, "Yesh, 'tay wiv' oo all 'e time!" Then she went hastily back to the bliss of "scruzzling" up the silks. Presently we heard her talking to herself:

"Want to 'tay wiv' 'e nisch lagy an' 'e mans and play wiv' 'e pittty fings, Janu-mit? Want to, Janumit, want to? Marzhry let Janumit 'tay? Yesh, I guess so!"

"Where is 'Marzhry, darling?"

A strange look came into the blue-gray depths. "Marzhry all gone away," she said.

Who is Marzhry? I asked.

"Marzhry's 'e uvver itty girl, way off in 'e cottage." She waved a silk-entangled little fist vaguely. "Ish is Marzhry's itty dress."

She patted her pink knee. "Janumit not got any pittty itty dress—'tepmuvver tooked 'em 'way." The dreadful terror began to show on the little face, but my wife hastily created a diversion—with my new field-glasses.

I was beginning to realize the meaning of the look on my wife's face—a determination on which any such trivial consideration as the legal rights over a child would go to smash. I concluded that it was time for me to set on foot some systematic inquiry tending to the discovery of the child's proper and lawful guardians. So I ventured to ask, "Where is your papa, little Janumit?"

"What is this, dear?"

"Ish my hanchanass?" The baby lifted big eyes of pathos. "I got her—r-r!"

"You sweet little thing!" Bess lifted the hurt wrist tenderly, preparatory to removing the awkward bandage, but the child screamed with pain.

No, no, no, don't touch it—I got hurt—r-r, I got hurt—r-r!" She struggled down to the floor in terror.

When Bess had convinced her that we would not interfere with the little injured arm, and had coaxed her back to her lap, I asked, "How did you get hurt, little Janumit?"

She stared into my eyes for a few seconds, in silence, as though reluctant, in her baby soul, to reveal the cruel truth. Then, with great solemn eyes, she said in that irresistible baby patois—"I got hurt—r-r yesterday, 'tepmuvver hit Janumit wiv' a knife, a hid knife."

My wife began to shower passionate kisses over her face and neck and hair. I got up and walked hastily across the piazza and back Bess is far from strong, and what we had been listening to—with the little victim before scoured by the white coverings deeply fringed with black—sleep reigned!

I shall not attempt to describe my emotions as I gazed at little Janumit asleep in my wife's embrace. Thus far, we had not felt the lack of children.

Youth and middle-age have many diversions, but a childless old age—I had thought of that before.

My deep-seated aversion to action on the impulse of strong emotion, my prudence, my apprehension of probable practical difficulties in the way of taking this child—well, if there had not been within me something very strong combating all those considerations, I knew the import of that look in Bess's eyes as she hugged the child to her breast. I have never regretted that I concealed my feelings—partially, at least—putting forward the practical, prudent side. I am a generous man, and am willing to let my wife have the satisfaction of having taken the initiative in the adoption of little Janumit.

I waited until she began—as I knew she would—"Robert, you may be hard-hearted if you like, but I shall never allow this child to fall into the hands of that inhuman!" She set her teeth. "And what is more, I shall keep her myself."

"I know how you feel, my dear," I said indulgently. "I only desire to caution you against allowing your feelings to run away with you. A woman is all feeling—"

"Feeling" indignantly. "And what is a man under such circumstances, I wish to know?"

"A man, at least attempts to govern feeling by reason," I said mildly. "Now it occurs to me at once to wonder if there might not be some exaggeration in the statements of this child—"

"Robert Evans, this is no place for you to drag in that hateful pessimism of yours and air your knowledge of human depravity! The idea that such a baby could speak anything but the truth! I am ashamed of you!"

Squelched, I began again. "But, my dear Elizabeth, there are matters that ought to be considered. This is heredity, for instance—now what do we know of this child's antecedents?"

"Hereditarily! Look and tone united to wither me. 'What do I care for heredity? Humanity is enough for me—especially such an adorable specimen of it as this!'"

"She is certainly a fine child," I conceded; "apparently without drawbacks, physical or mental. Everything seems to be normal, with the possible exception of her fantastic name."

"I like her name—it is so quaint, it seems to suit her, somehow, the little dear! Now she veered round and took me unexpectedly. 'Robert, you don't mean a word that you say'—her intuition is sometimes startling—'you are just talking to hear yourself talk—' you want this child just as much as I do! We've been growing frightfully selfish—a child in our home will be our salvation. And this precious little blossom—if providence didn't bring her to us, what did, I should like to know!"

Unable to answer this, I mused a moment. Then I resumed—less hypocritically. "Granting the perfect eligibility of the child for adoption and our desire to avail ourselves of the apparently providential opportunity, you must reflect, my dear, that there may be legal obstacles."

"What legal obstacles?" She braced herself to meet them on the spot.

"Well, the child is not ours, you see?"

"Oh," indignantly, "it belongs to the stepmother, no doubt!"

"There is the father to be reckoned with. He may not wish to resign his offspring, and he would in that case have the laws on his side."

"Oh, then, the laws of this civilized land would take a helpless little child and hand it over to be beaten and abused? Very well, then, I will break the laws—all of them, if necessary—and do the country a service, too!"

Her idea, evidently, was that breaking a law constituted its repeal and erasure from the statute books.

"But my woman's instinct tells me that there is some way to evade such laws—and you will have to find it, Robert!" That is the usual way—her woman's instinct scents something, but must hunt around and get it located when she needs to use it. "Do you think that any jury would tear this child from my arms and give it to a brutal, inhuman wretch?"

Bess's acquaintance with proceedings at law is slight, and her ideas on the subject present an interesting vagueness. I would give a dollar for the mental picture that engaged her at that moment—herself a heroic figure, defying the law and its minions, melting by her eloquence the hearts of the jury scoured by the white coverings deeply fringed with black—sleep reigned!

THE WOMAN'S HOME PAGE

McClure's started as a 15-cent magazine

Then the business department, in response to a general fad for ten-cent magazines, lowered the price to ten cents, but forgot to tell the editorial department. As a consequence, the editorial department went on making a fifteen-cent magazine. As they kept making it better every year, it soon became a twenty-cent magazine, and then a twenty-five-cent magazine—but the price was still ten cents.

Today McClure's is just as good as we know how to make it, irrespective of price. We know that the five hundred thousand buyers who have so long delighted in McClure's at ten cents will be, if not delighted, at least willing to pay 15 cents. Hence the announcement that on October 15 McClure's Magazine would be 15 cents; $1.50 a year.

But—there is just one opportunity for those who have so long been readers of McClure's still to enjoy it at the old, very low price of $1.00—if they act quickly. As soon as you read this send from one to five dollars for from one to five years' subscription, and send it today. We think you, who have so long loved McClure's Magazine, are entitled to get it at the old price for a little longer. Send the money in any convenient form—check, money order or bills—but send it today and don't forget your name and address.

TRAINING GIRLS

A NOVEL experiment in training girls to manage a home is to be made in London if the education committee of the London County Council adopts a scheme which has been submitted to them.

The aim is to make the girls proficient in the domestic duties they would have to perform as the wives of artisans earning from 25s. to £3 a week. In addition to washing, cooking and cleaning and the general management of the home on a systematic basis, they would be taught how "to shop" in the most economical way. At the beginning of each week a certain sum would be set aside for rent, rates, clothing, insurance, traveling expenses and for providing a fund for "a rainy day." The remainder would be available for food and any little luxuries that might be possible.

In order that the training may be as practicable as possible, it is necessary that the time occupied in attending to baby in most homes should not be overlooked in the programme of the experimental home. It is proposed each week, therefore, to undertake the care of a child belonging to a working class family in the neighborhood, and in this way the girls would gain further valuable experience. Every piece of furniture and every utensil would have the price paid for it marked on it, so that the girls might have an idea of how much each article can be bought for.

DAINTINESS

Daintiness does not mean primping and spending all your time trying to be good looking, dear, growing girl. It means the exquisite cleanliness which makes a woman womanly and attractive, and it means taking such good care of your clothes that however economical you may need to be, your raiment will always look fresh, attractive and good. The dainty girl is never lazy, but the girl who does not care how her clothes look is selfish, because she makes it hard for the dear mother, who must stretch father's money—well, as only a mother can do.

A Fetching Kimono

Stylish and fetching, this kimono is made of fine quality in challis, silk, or satin. It has a wide, flowing collar and long sleeves. The pattern is a delicate floral design. It is a perfect garment for the home or for a light outdoor wear.

No. 6858—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches, bust measure.

Pattern will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

To avoid delay, do not fail to state size of pattern desired, and be sure to write name and address plainly.

SECOND WEDDING

CARDS of invitation to a woman's second marriage take the same form they would have if it were her first. In the name of her parents or nearest surviving relative the cards are issued and her own name does not appear as on her first wedding cards. It is true that her own first and middle names appear, but they must be supplemented by the surname of her deceased husband, thus:

Mr and Mrs. Horace Dunham request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mrs. Eleanor Folsom Craig to Mr. Harold Parker Strange on Tuesday, December the 15th at twelve o'clock, at St. Margaret's Chapel Elm Avenue

The Four Sewing Seams

PRACTICALLY there are but four seams, though in execution they may be almost infinitely varied. First comes the over-seam. Commonly it joins selvages, or else hemed edges with inset ribbon or lace. This is also the carpet-stitch. Carpet-sewing, of course, means a big needle and the very stoutest flax-thread, double and well waxed. Match the threads ahead of the needle, and make them fit, even though the fitting demands a slight puckering. Take shallow fold, never more than a quarter-inch, setting the needle in the farther side and thrusting it well through before attempting to pull it out. Make regular stitches, and be careful not to draw one tight enough to crease the selvage, yet leave the next loose enough to stand slack upon top of it. That makes a zigzag wabbling seam, which causes puckers, wrinkles, and wear of the laid carpet.

For anything else than carpet, use rather a fine needle, and thread proportionate. Thus the work is much easier; the resultant seam much neater. Pin the edges together six inches ahead; this insures against holding one fuller than the other. Take neat, short stitches of even depth, and as shallow as will hold. After a seam is finished, separate the parts, and smooth the join hard upon the wrong side with the end of the thimble. The shorter and more regular the stitches, the daintier the joining. It is especially useful for infants' skirts—indeed, for all infants' belongings—for bed and table furnishings, and for very fine night-clothes and underwear.

Felled seams are first sewed with the back edge standing higher than the front one; then the standing edge is folded under, hem-fashion, and whipped down to the body of the garment. Machine-felling is possible to an expert operator, but is nothing like so desirable as hand-felling. The first sewing up may, however, be done on the machine. Trim away all rough edges and ravelled threads before beginning to fell, and, as in over-seam, use fine needles rather than coarse ones.

A simple raw seam is either stitched or run, keeping the edges even, and not holding one in to the other. Stitched seams are sometimes opened flat and kept flat with lines of herring-bone stitches. This is a good finish for the seams of boys' summer-trousers, as it strengthens the join, yet leaves it elastic. Run seams with selvages need no other finish. With raw edges it is wise to whip them sparsely from top to bottom.

For underwear and white goods generally, the bag seam is recommendable. To make it, first sew a very narrow seam to stand up on the right side, then turn the garment, fold it evenly along the first seam, and stitch a second line the eighth of an inch from the edge. This comes next to felling, and is often preferable, in that all the work can be done on the machine. Still, upon very fine textures, and particularly with sloped or rounded edges, it is best to run the first seam, taking short, even stitches. Excellent in any kind of running means, the thread straight, so as to make a seam of even depth, and having the stitches the same length, not alternately short and long. The length should be proportioned to the fabric sewed. Take up four to eight threads of it, and skip as many. Counting would be a tedious waste of time. Count for the first stitch, and use that as a pattern.

INTRODUCTIONS The simplest method is always the best. "Mrs. Edwards, let me present Mr. Vincent," is a form properly used on almost any occasion. "Let me make you acquainted with," is an awkward and now obsolete phrase. In introducing men to women, the woman's name is always spoken first and the gentleman presented to the lady. Very frequently, where a man introduces one of his own sex to a woman, he uses the following as being somewhat more complimentary: "Mrs. Edwards, Mr. Vincent desires to be presented to you." When asking permission of a lady to bring up and introduce a masculine stranger it is only necessary to say, "Miss Brown, may I present my friend Blank, he is very eager to know you, I hope you have no objections?" On the lady's acquiescence the presentation would then be directly made in the simplest form.

In making a stranger known to a group of guests, a host or hostess, if the new-comer is a woman, would usually say, "Mrs. Edwards, let me present Miss Brown, Miss Dora Brown, Captain Blank, and Doctor Jones." But should it be necessary to perform this always rather awkward feat in behalf of a young woman or of a gentleman, the master or mistress of ceremonies may dispense with all superfluous wording and mentioning first the name of the stranger, specify the guests or friends present by their proper titles and surnames—thus: "Miss Edwards, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Mason, Mr. Mason."

The mistake must never be made of leading a lady about a room full of guests and introducing her to many persons as possible. A distant or youthful member of society may be conducted across a drawing-room or ball-room, in order to be presented to a woman older than herself, somewhat dowager or distinguished matron; and when the introduction to be made is of a man to a woman, the man is always taken to the lady.

Where there is a palpable difference in the ages of two women, the younger is introduced to the older. "Mrs. Brown, let me present Mrs. Jones." An unmarried woman is invariably presented to a matron, unless the spinster is very old, in which case the older person. Two mistakes between which ages it would be difficult to draw a distinction, may be frequently introduced by a nod, and only the balance of difference in the ages is given—Mrs. Thompson, this is Mrs. Brown; Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Thompson.

In making men known to one another, the methods are not so finely drawn. A young man or a bachelor would not usually be presented to a woman, but to a gentleman, and a young man to a young man, or a young man to a young woman, or a young woman to a young woman.

TABLE ETIQUETTE

Grapes and small plums are eaten from the fingers, and the stones of plums are spit out and dropped from the plate, never dropped from the hand. Plums are best presented with the spoon before the fruit is eaten, and then laid to one side on the plate. The tender asparagus tips must be cut off with a fork, and the remainder of the stalk goes to waste.

Night Gown in Sack Style

The sack style of nightgown is well liked by many women, and as a good pattern for such has been frequently requested, we are giving one here which will please. The breadths of the gown hang straight from the shoulder, the long and short length gown being provided for in the pattern. A pointed yoke facing relieves the plainness of the gown, and the neck may be finished with a rolling collar or without. The sleeves may be full length, or shorter, and the neck high or in Dutch round style.

For the medium size 6 1/2 yards material 36 inches wide are needed for the full-length gown. No. 6898—Sizes, small, medium and large. Pattern will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

To avoid delay, do not fail to state size of pattern desired, and be sure to write name and address plainly.

Desserts From Old Preserves

With the shelves well filled with this season's jams, jellies and preserves, what to do with the left-over condiments for last year is a problem that confronts the housewife. They are far too good to give away, for they represent much time and considerable expense. There are numberless dainties that can be made, utilizing these jams and jellies of last year's make, and here are a few that should appeal to one and all.

One of the simplest ways of using up jams is to make a pie crust and line a dozen individual cake tins with the pastry, put in the oven and cook to a golden brown. When this crust is cold fill the individuals with jam, and add to each a heaping tablespoonful of whipped cream, or make a meringue and set in the oven to brown. This is a very popular French dessert and to the person who loves pastry it is a great relief from the regulation pie.

Another simple and pretty dessert is made by putting a layer of jelly or jam in the bottom of a glass dish, over this pour a little boiled tapioca pudding, then another layer of the jelly. Served from a glass dish this is a very attractive dessert.

French Pancakes is a dessert much liked, particularly by the male element. To make these, take one pint of milk, two eggs, one tablespoonful of sugar, one cup of flour, one tablespoonful of baking powder, one cup cream, pinch of salt. Sift the flour, powder and salt together, and to it the eggs beaten with the sugar and diluted with the milk and cream, mix into this batter. Pour about a half a cup of the batter on a large frying pan, put on hot fire and when well done, spread with any kind of preserves, roll up, cut over them plenty of sugar, and give with a red-hot poker.

Blackberry Jam Cake. One cup of dark brown sugar, one-half cup butter, three eggs, three tablespoonfuls milk, one teaspoon of soda, one cup of jam, two cups of flour, two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon, one-half cup of nutmeg. Bake in two jelly pans and put together with white icing.

Fruit Roll Pudding. One pint of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one large spoonful sugar, one teaspoonful baking powder, one teaspoonful butter, milk or water to moisten. Work this as little as possible to make into a soft biscuit dough, divide into five parts, pat flat, lay two tablespoonfuls of any tart jelly or preserves on each, and roll. Place in a pan and pour over them the following sauce. One tablespoonful of butter, one cup of sugar, half a cup of cream, one pint of boiling water, stir and pour over the rolls, bake until done. This is really a delicious dessert.

Jam Puddings. To make this pudding take three eggs, one cup of sugar and one cup of any jam, preferably rather tart, half a cup of butter, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in hot water, and half a cup of milk. Mix with enough sifted flour to make a batter not quite as thick as for cake. This should be baked in shallow tin, and served very hot with the following sauce: Two-thirds of a cup of sugar, butter the size of a large walnut, two tablespoonfuls of hot water and one egg. Cream all of this together and set over a pan of hot water, and cook a few minutes until it is the consistency of thick cream.

A Dainty Chemise

Dainty underwear is always a subject of interest to womankind, and especially at present when everything in the feminine wardrobe is as fine and exquisite as the human brain can devise. An excellent idea for a chemise is sketched, showing the fullness of the front regulated by tucks stitched several inches at the waistline. Every one who wears a chemise knows that it needs always to be pulled down or up and around, so that only the necessary fullness is allowed to remain in front, the back mattering little, so long as the fullness does not lie all on one side or another. Every particular woman gives special attention to the fit of her dresses, and to realize this the undergarments must be properly worn. This chemise goes on over the head and has no opening. It is very easily made, and suitable to elaborate or simple adornment. For the medium size 3 yards of 36-inch material are needed.

No. 6855—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches, bust measure. Pattern will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents each, by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

To avoid delay, do not fail to state size of pattern desired, and be sure to write name and address plainly.

The Marjorie Dane Catalogue of Fall and Winter styles is now ready. The Woman Admired by Men

BE actively and demonstratively kind by look and by word. Make kindness a part of your beautiful looks, for this is a charm that age cannot wither nor custom stale, and to which all men bow with the readiest and gladdest acknowledgment. They like and they feel drawn toward the woman who has a simple, friendly and thoroughly amiable way with her, whose eyes look bright with a quick, sweet-tempered, upward glance, whose mouth is ready to curve into a smile, and who seems to regard everybody as worth her friendly interest.

Here and there, and not infrequently, I have chanced to meet nice girls and pretty girls who made the really pathetic mistake of thinking that in order to strike admiration and respect to the heart of the average young man it was both becoming and necessary to assume a very proud, cold and reserved manner.

This manner the heroines of many novel and interesting short stories do preserve with good effect, I grant, but in real life it is a very disagreeable and unprofitable demeanor. If you take upon you the air of a very dignified young goddess, you will be considered by the major portion of the masculine world as hard and unsympathetic and unapproachable, and thus you win an unenviable reputation that is difficult to live down.

Men, and especially young men, believe me, are not nearly so brave and bold as they are supposed to be. The ordinary well-bred, high-minded young man of to-day can and will face his glars, wild beasts and the guns of his country's enemies without faltering, but his courage is apt to ooze right out of him when he is obliged to appear before a very stately, very dignified young lady.

Instead of wishing to break through her reserve he wishes to run away; he finds her so alarming that no matter how fair her face may be, or how great her reputation for wisdom, he cannot bring himself to either like or admire her. At the first opportunity he will leave her side in order to find a seat near a girl whose waist may be thick, whose face may not be innocent of freckles, but who is not too shy or too reserved to be other than sweetly friendly. What attracts him to the latter is her evident kindness, her quick, warm way of holding out her hand and saying "how do you do?" as though his appearance gave her pleasure, and the genuinely interested little fashion in which she draws aside her frills to make a place for him on the sofa, saying, "I hear you have been out in the West since I last met you; do tell me what you saw and did there?"

Then, as he tries to tell her the news of himself, she looks so sparkling with interest, she bursts into little oh's and ah's of enthusiasm, she laughs so willingly at his jokes and puts so much heart and heartiness into the mere business of drawing out the story of his trip that he finds her the most agreeable kind of companion. He feels so full of confidence and so much at his ease in her presence that when next he meets her at a dance or a reception, or a luncheon in the woods, he makes haste to find a place near her and tries again to see her eyes grow bright and hear her nice voice.

A Model Guest Room

HOWEVER simply a guest chamber is furnished, it is always be a model of comfort, neatness and cheerfulness. A fresh, brightly flowered paper, the floor covered with Japanese matting and a few rugs, white muslin curtains, chintz upholstered furniture and a sleep-inviting bed are the most important articles in the fitting of such an apartment. Since the preferences and habits of no two guests are alike, it is essential to provide for the vagaries of every individual.

One visitor will not find it difficult to sleep profoundly with the sun streaming in at every window; another will be distinctly wretched if the morning light cannot be excluded. Therefore, the thoughtful hostess, if the outside or inside shutters of her guest room do not work easily, will hang dark green or blue Holland shades at every window, such as will easily roll up and be out of sight all day and then be drawn at night.

In the closet of the guest chamber an extra blanket should always be folded; a table with a lamp, candle and matches should be placed at the bedside; the bells for summoning the servants should be in working order; and there should be many small conveniences supplied, such as pens, ink, stationery, telegraph blanks and a calendar on a small writing desk or table near the window, and over the desk or table a card that gives the hours at which letters can be posted and received.

The hostess who is thoughtful in all these details sees also that there is a neat little housewife, holding needles, scissors, thimble and thread, in the dressing table drawer; places the dressing table where it will receive the most direct light both from the windows and the gas-jet; and makes it a rule to look in person through the room when an occupant is expected, to assure herself that it has been properly aired, that the wash-stand is amply supplied with towels, fresh water and a new cake of soap, and that closets and drawers are empty and immaculately clean.

In the great English country houses and in a few very splendid American homes, a trained and salaried housekeeper looks well to this perfect preparation for a guest's reception; but as a rule the American serving-maid is not to be relied upon to take great pains to anticipate a visitor's every need, and a hostess who trusts wholly to her maids to supply all the nice little attentions is apt to subject the sojourners under her roof to many small annoyances.

NOISELESS FIRE

TO make a noiseless fire, as in a sick-room or a parlor, put the coal in paper bags, and lay it bag at a time in the grate. Do not put on a fresh bag until the paper of the first has burned through. Thus a fire can be kept up not only noiselessly, but without dust or dirt. To take away the ashes from such a fire, sprinkle the ash-pan well before touching it, take it out, set it gently across a long doubled wire, catch the wire up each side, and carry outside the room. Brush up what ashes may remain with a feather brush, and wipe the whole space quickly with a damp cloth.

FASHION HINTS

Mesh veils, worn close to the face, match the hat perfectly. The chiffon veil, worn as a drapery with floating ends, may be in a contrasting color, but it is a mass of dots in different sizes.

"Best dress" reception gowns, party frocks and house dresses are all made from the most supple materials. Only the short skirted, tailored suit is made from heavy material that does not give to the figure. All raiment for women is either very manly for rough wear or exquisitely supple for dress wear.

Great Invention Improves Home

Think of all the music of the world, all of the languages and all of the fun and entertainment as well in one little machine! Such is the Edison new style 1908 Model Phonograph, the greatest invention that the world ever has known.

All readers should be glad of the opportunity to know of this wonderful offer whereby you may secure a genuine Edison 1908 Model Phonograph for a free trial in your own home—a free trial lasting at least several days—a week if necessary.

Music Moves the World

When an offer so stupendously liberal as this is made I think it the duty of this paper to bring it to the notice of its readers. Music moves the world and music should be in every home. The offer made here is one which gives you an opportunity to bring all of the best music of the world, all of the highest class entertainment, comic opera, grand opera, all of the great piano selections, all of the wondrously beautiful songs, the great violin solos, monologues, recitations and vaudeville skits right under your own roof for an absolutely free trial lasting a week if necessary.

I believe that every reader of this paper should take advantage of this offer. The Edison Phonograph Distributors of Chicago tell me that free trial means free trial, and that they will stand back of every offer made here. Since this is a large business house of the highest financial standing, I know that they will do everything they say. Think of it! They will loan you a phonograph and charge you not one penny for rental.

Send Only Small Payment

If you want to keep the phonograph after you have given it a thorough trial and after you have invited all of your friends to hear its sweet tones you may send the Edison distributors a small payment, ranging from $2 to $3.50, and pay the remainder in easy monthly installments, no more than $2 or $3.50 a month.

And after you have tried the Genuine Edison 1908 Model Phonograph in your home and decide not to keep it you may return the instrument at their expense, and they will charge you absolutely nothing for the trial. I never heard of such liberality. Did you?

With the new model phonograph you get one dozen genuine Edison gold-moulded records, which you may keep with the machine for the same small monthly payments. They go with the instrument.

My advice to you is to accept this offer today. All you have to do is to sign the coupon at the bottom of this page, place it in an envelope and mail it. I sincerely hope that each one of the readers will sign the FREE COUPON at the bottom of this page at once and mail it today.

Better Than Piano or Organ

The Phonograph is better than a piano or an organ, its cost is about one-tenth as much, and its power to entertain and please is a hundred times greater. The Phonograph is rapidly supplanting the piano in thousands of homes. Where those instruments previously furnished the music, whatever music there was, the Phonograph stands now.

Some of the greatest music writers of the day—the great composers of music, and even the most renowned critics of technique and execution have praised the perfect new style 1908 model Edison Phonograph. Henry T. Finck, an eminent writer on music, says in a magazine article "I would rather hear Sousa's band in one of these superior Phonographs than in the concert hall, because the record makes it less noisy while at the same time preserving the peculiar quality of tone color of every instrument."

When such statements as these are made by a man as well known in the musical world as is Prof. Finck, it is easy to tell why the people, living on the farms and in the smaller towns, have such exceptionally fine entertainments and enjoy their homes so thoroughly. They have provided themselves with Edison Phonographs.

New Songs Always

The country never is without its new songs, catchy pretty and bubbling with the exultant feeling of a successful nation. These songs usually originate in New York and take months to travel westward. If you have a Phonograph you may have these new songs all the time. You may keep pace with the world and you may learn these songs by heart simply by hearing them sung over and over again by the Phonograph. "Why, where did you hear that new song?" I have been just dying to hear it," is an expression heard frequently when the owner of a Phonograph sings a new tune his Phonograph has taught him weeks before it reaches his particular district.

You Cannot Imagine How Much Happiness

you will get from this instrument until it is set up in your home and begins to play the pieces which stir your very soul. Turn your back and you will be almost willing to swear that a great actor or a sweet singer is standing behind you.

All hearts are light and joy reigns supreme in this home gathering. Every fleeting moment is a happy one. The Edison Phonograph entertains all. It pleases old and young. After each piece that it renders there is prolonged hand-clapping, just as if a real band were playing or a real singer were singing before this cheerful family. There is no finer way to entertain your friends than with the new 1908 Model Edison Phonograph, which will be sent to any responsible person for a free trial, lasting 2 days.

Parents Find Aid in Hearing Children

Another great help has been found for the family.

Thomas A. Edison's wonderful machine, the latest and newest style 1908 model Phonograph, holds the family together and keeps a feeling of good cheer and contentment constantly alive.

Ministers and public speakers lately have pointed out the great work which the Phonograph is doing in keeping the children within doors during the evening. When at the Phonograph is in the home there is no running around nights on the part of the children. They are more than glad to remain at their own bedside where they can get more and better entertainment than they can get in any other place. They lose all desire to go out. They want to stay in. They want to hear the bands they want to listen to the songs and laugh about the jokes of the funny men.

The problem of keeping the children off the streets is no problem at all when an Edison is in the home.

All people know that the greatest menace to the home and to the children comes when the parents begin to run about nights—when they leave their bright warm fireside for the darkness of the night. There are but two reasons for this—either there is insufficient entertainment at home or the children are doing things which they ought not to do and do not want their parents to know about. In a little while the boys and girls, too, are changed. They have met evil companions and they have imbibed some of the evil spirit they have seen in others. They become rough and disobedient and you wonder if your sullen son ever was the sweet, innocent baby you held in your arms. Don't blame him too much. Take some of the blame yourself. Young girls and boys are not supposed to have the same ideas as the older folks. They want something different. They crave for play and entertainment that, many times, the dry old home doesn't furnish.

This entertainment should be furnished by the parents and when it is furnished by them there is no longer a desire on the part of any child to leave home. The child's heart always turns toward home. That is its natural inclination. At home is father and mother, and no matter how dissatisfied the children may seem there is always love in their hearts. When there is added to this natural love, the joys of such a magnificent entertainer as the new 1908 model Edison Phonograph, the children never want to leave the house in the evening. Why should they want to go away when you can take them to a band concert to-night—a minstrel show to-morrow night—a sacred concert the next night? And then, if you want to, you may give them a dance. Young people always like to dance. Just take up the rug, put the Edison in one end of the room and the fun begins.

The music from the Edison is the sweetest dance music there is. It is loud enough to play in any hall, and as the young people and even the old folks can hear it, it is dancing over the floor everything but joy and pleasure is forgotten.

There is no rapping or scratching or halting about the Edison. Judgment of this great new 1908 Phonograph should not be based on the cheap, metallic-sounding imitations you may have heard.

You cannot make a mistake if you sign the coupon and get a free trial.

Dear Sir: The Phonograph came all right, was all and more than claimed for. There have been many to hear it, and all say it is the finest in town, and I think it would be impossible to procure a machine that would give a clearer, purer tone. Thank you for past favors.—Mrs. Ernest Lawrence.

Argyle, Mo., Feb. 19, '07.
Dear Sir: Phonograph Outfit received yesterday. It is a "beauty," and I am in every respect. I have a fine disc machine, but it does not begin to compare with the Edison. My wife says she would not take $50.00 for it. Everybody in town was down to hear it last night, and it made a decided "hit" with all of them.—Mr. Chas. E. Tyrone.

Ridgeway, Va., May 26, '07.
Dear Sir: I received the Edison Phonograph Outfit No. 5 and have given it a thorough trial. It is the best I have ever heard of. It is a fine machine without doubt the best in the world. It gives clearest and finest tone of any machine I have ever heard. It is a great entertainer for both young and old, and I have large crowds every night to hear the grand music it produces.—Mr. J. R. Doyle.

Dear Sir: Edison Phonograph arrived last night in good order. As to the quality of the machine, I think it is the best I have heard of. There are several fine machines in this town, some that cost $50.00 but I think them inferior to the Edison Standard No. 5 in cleanness and sweetness of tone.—Aug. Nelson.

Mr. Hope, Mo., May 16, '07.
Dear Sir: Your Phonograph was received about a week ago. It is a fine machine as natural as the persons themselves. I can hear every word for over a quarter of a mile, and of a still evening you can tell many of the words for a half mile. I certainly recommend your phonograph as it is soft in tone, musical, and not harsh or scratchy, distinct in words and sounds, and is not too loud for home use. I have heard machines that cost $100.00, and this Edison stands them so much that it is hardly a comparison. I thank you for your treatment ever so much, and will try to make a sale for you.—Mr. Con Fisher.
